MT. CRESTED BUTTE, Colo. – March 26, 2019 – It has been a season to remember across Vail Resorts' Colorado mountains with record-breaking snowfall, early season openings and incredible events throughout the 2018-19 winter season. Spring may have sprung, but Epic Pass holders can still reap the benefits of their pass over the next few weeks.

To maximize usage of the Epic Pass over the remainder of the season, prioritize these events across our Colorado resorts.

Now through April 7: Sun-filled Decks andAprès at Beaver Creek

Families visiting Beaver Creek this spring can soak in the sunshine and listen to live afternoon music on-mountain Wednesday through Sunday. Locations include Broken Arrow, Talons Restaurant, Spruce Saddle, Mamie's Mountain Grill and the Ice Cream Parlour.

April 5-7: Cool Off at Crested Butte & Keystone's Closing Weekends
Two of Colorado's best pond skim events cap the winter season at Crested Butte and Keystone over each resorts' respective Closing Weekends. For a full weekend getaway, escape to Crested Butte for SkiTown Breakdown – free live concerts featuring The Main Squeeze, Chali 2na and Cut Chemist – April 6 and 7. The popular LandShark Pond Skim takes place on Saturday, April 6, with scores for creativity, costumes and execution.

Families can enjoy spring skiing together at Keystone with the return of the Kidtopia Slush Cup on Closing Day, April 7. The Kidtopia Slush Cup consists of fun for the entire family, including pond skimming competitions for both kids and adults.

April 11-14: Spring Back to Vail
Spring Back to Vail brings spring in the mountains to life with free concerts at Ford Park, in-town and on-mountain late season specials, après and after dark parties, a lively festival village and more. The spring tradition culminates with the World Pond Skimming Championships as costumed participants will ski or board themselves off a snow jump across a pond in the hopes of coming out on the other side in style.

April 22 - May 27: Breck's Spring Finale
Epic Pass holders can take advantage of Breck's Spring Finale with skiing and riding through Memorial Day. Incredible spring conditions will be available during Breck's extended season, and skiers and riders can enjoy approximately 1,000 acres of terrain on Peaks 6, 7 and 8, in addition to on-mountain activations and entertainment every weekend in May, as weather and conditions permit.
